

PUBLIC NOTICE FOR WOMEN PROFESSIONALS AND EXECUTIVES DATABASE

The Zimbabwe Gender Commission (ZGC) is one of the five Independent Commissions established in terms of Section 245 of the Constitution of Zimbabwe and operationalised through the Zimbabwe Gender Commission Act [Chapter 10:31] with the overall mandate of monitoring and ensuring implementation of gender equality provisions in the Constitution.

In pursuit of its mandate ZGC has developed a database for Women Professionals and Executives. The Database captures Zimbabwean women professionals and their skills diversity in different sectors and at different levels of leadership.

The legal, socio-economic and political status of women has remained low in Zimbabwe in both the private and public sectors. To turn this round, women's representation becomes paramount in decision making positions in both the public and private sector in order to fulfil the constitutional provision for gender equality. In line with the national mantra - Zimbabwe is Open for Business, this database calls for equal representation and participation of women in the economic growth trajectory that Zimbabwe is set for.

The Zimbabwe Gender Commission is therefore inviting Zimbabwean women all over the world to register on our website <http://www.zgc.org.zw> and create their own profiles which will be stored in a central repository at the ZGC. These profiles will be used to feed into recruitment and placement of women in public leadership, professional and executive positions which may arise in Zimbabwe and globally where Zimbabwean women are eligible to take part. By so doing, the ZGC Women Professionals and Executive database will provide women with a window of unlimited opportunities for women's socio-economic empowerment and to contribute to Zimbabwe's development agenda.

Don't be left out, follow the link http://www.zgc.org.zw/zgc_db/ and join the web of women professionals, leaders and executives - stand a chance to be strategically positioned, representing women's concerns and interests in high level spaces/platforms by doing that which you have always wanted!
